

Introduction

"Terms", "document", "TOS" "rules" refers to this Terms of Service legal document.

"Us", "we", "website", "our services" refers to RoDevs and their website

(<https://rodevs.com>).

"You", "your", "users" refers to you as an end user, as well as other users on the internet.

These are important legal rules for using our service. It will describe what is and isn't allowed and/or classed as "fair use". These terms are designed to keep all users (including you) and ourselves (RoDevs) safe from any type of threat or breach, and to ensure the law isn't broken by accident or on purpose, and detail the process we will follow if we suspect a breach of these terms or the law.

What we will do if we suspect a breach of these terms

As stated in our Privacy Policy, we reserve the right to investigate the incident. If we believe you breached our terms of service, we may contact you (via a contact method we already have, as described in the privacy policy) with a warning, or we may ban your account or your IP address. In extreme circumstances that breach our security and user's privacy or wellbeing, we may press legal charges against you.

Access to our Services

Accessing our service is a privilege, not a right, and can be revoked at any time without any notice. Upon revoking your access to our service, we may continue to store some of your data for a period after your access is revoked, to make sure that you do not continue to use our service despite your access being revoked. As stated in our privacy policy, we have the right to share your data with law enforcement personnel, to ensure the safety of users and upkeep of the law.

Your Account

You are responsible for your account and your usage of our services. If your account breaches these terms, you will be responsible for the consequences of your account's actions, unless you can prove to us not only that it wasn't you but who it was. Your account is only accessible via your Discord account or your "token". Tokens are long, random strings of text that are stored in your browser so we can identify you. Nobody else can see your token unless you have been hacked or socially engineered into giving it to somebody. If this is the case, we recommend you contact us ASAP. If somebody else has access to your Discord account, they can use it to access your RoDevs account. If your Discord account is compromised, you will need to change your Discord password, and contact Discord to inform them of your problem.

Protecting our Service

RoDevs Terms of Service

You must not perform any actions that could negatively impact the experience for other users. This includes (but is not limited to) reverse engineering or exploiting (“hacking”) our website to gain access to areas of the service which you haven’t been granted access to or redistributing any parts of the service (such as images, source code, etc), as all of it is owned by and regulated by RoDevs.

Uploading Content

By uploading content to the website, you grant us a license to publicly share your content for free, unless we specify in the upload process that it will be treated otherwise. For this reason, you must not upload any content that is owned by a third party, unless you have specific permission. As well as belonging to you, content you upload must comply with the law (see below), and it must not be of a sexual, hateful, discriminatory, offensive, tragic, gory, or violent nature.

Upholding the Law

Everything that you do with our services (particularly uploading your own content) must comply with local laws in the country you are in at time of use, as well as the laws of the countries we manage the service from, which are the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the United States of America. If you are aware of somebody else breaking the law whilst using our service, you must not hesitate to contact us, and if appropriate contact suitable law enforcement. Upon discovery of illegal activity we will immediately stop the activity (usually by removing access to our service for that specific user), and if appropriate contact suitable law enforcement.
